HAPPENING AT CHURCH STREET

Thanksgiving Baskets - 2020

Each November, Church Street tackles a Thanksgiving Basket project that spreads joy to all those involved. For many, it has become a beloved tradition and a kick-off to the holiday season. With the challenges we face in the midst of the current pandemic, this event is going to take on a new form this fall. But we are thrilled to announce that Thanksgiving Baskets are a GO!

Rather than having a one-day blitz, we are spreading the project out over a week, offering us the chance to safely follow protocol while still serving our community.

We are limiting the number of households at each shift to ensure the safety of all participants. This event takes a lot of hands to make everything run smoothly. If you would like to support this project financially, you can do so by donating directly to the "Thanksgiving Basket" item at churchstreetumc.org/give. The cost for one basket is $55, but any amount will make a huge difference in this project! We can't wait for you to join us as we serve the Knoxville community together! If you are interested in participating in this project, please scan the QR code above or use this link to sign up for a shift: <https://bit.ly/20thanksbaskets>

Master Arts Series Piano Dedication

Please join the Church Street Master Arts Series on YouTube this Wednesday, November 18 at 7:30 pm for a virtual Parish Hall Piano Dedication recital. The newly renovated Parish Hall now boasts a beautiful Kawai grand piano given by Verna McLain, in honor of her husband, Herman Sain. Fay Adams, David and Stephanie Northington, and Edie Johnson will play hymn-based works as well as classical pieces by Rachmaninoff, Chopin, Brahms, and Mozart. We hope you will tune in on November 18!

If you are thinking of perfect, but not-too-pricey, holiday gifts for friends or family members, why not pick up several copies of the newly arrived Table Graces, Vol II? Printed in the format of the 2019 booklet, this little 2020 fold-over collection contains forty-four different prayers, stands easily on any dining table, and is suitable for both young children and adults. It is hoped this assortment of graces will strengthen the daily family practice of thanking our Lord for the goodness and mercy we have all received from his loving hand.

The price is $10 per copy, half of which will benefit the UMW Missions Fund, and may be purchased at the UMW Bake Sale on November 22, by emailing Pastor Jan at jbwade@churchstreetumc.org or calling 865-521-0264; or by calling the church office at 865-524-3048.

Because there is no live choral music available for this Advent/Christmas season, the music department is releasing a CD recording of the 2018 Master

Arts performance of Part 1 of MESSIAH, presented by the Parish Adult Choir, Orchestra, & Soloists, and recorded live in performance on December 18, 2018 in the Church Street nave. The CD is available for $15 (shipped, $20). All proceeds will benefit the Beacon of Hope Food Co-op for our friends in South Knoxville. The music department will underwrite all production costs.

If you would like the church to ship your CDs, please add $5 for postage and handling for a total of $20. Payment: Mail a check to CSUMC at CSUMC, P.O. Box 1303, Knoxville, TN 37901 or pay online at churchstreetumc.org/give.

Journeying Forward

Over the next few months, we will highlight portions of Unfinished Journey and its contents as it describes the journey of Church Street, its people, its challenges, and its successes and failures placed in the context of two centuries of American history. It is a journey far from completed, a story still in the process of being told. Article eighteen is below.

Church Street Grows. Newly-won Black Freedom Slows.

In January 1865, politicians played a game of musical chairs between Nashville and Washington. First, Tennessee's Governor Andrew Johnson became Lincoln's Vice President and, in turn, Unionist W. G. Brownlow won the election to become Tennessee's governor. During Brownlow's term, Tennessee ratified the 13th Amendment abolishing slavery. It also repealed the Ordinance of Secession, allowing Tennessee to be the first Southern state to return to the Union. Brownlow also allied himself with the radical Republicans passing laws that disenfranchised Confederates for five years and gave civil rights to former slaves. These allies

New donations of $500 or more to the Building Fund made during the duration of 2020 will receive a complimentary signed copy of Unfinished Journey and will be recognized at the end of the calendar year for helping us as we move further along in this particular journey together to pay off our building project.

passed many laws supporting Reconstruction, enabling freed slaves to vote and hold elective office.

It is ironic that the next Governor, Dewitt C. Senter, son of former Methodist circuit rider (serving Knoxville's White's Chapel in 1826), allied himself with Democrats and helped reverse many of Brownlow's Reconstruction laws. During his term, a state constitutional convention restored former disenfranchised Confederates—and the Democrats—to power. Senter also reduced the effort to control the Ku Klux Klan, thinking it would reduce violence. After that, reconstruction slowed, and the newly freed slaves lost political power.

Church Street MEC, South began to grow, and during the appointment of Rev. E. E. Hoss, the church's Broad Street mission property gained a new church along with a large number of new members transferring from Church Street. Missions were sent elsewhere in the city, and some grew into churches. The Sunday School thrived during the appointment of Rev. R. H. Parker. In 1873, pastor William G.E. Cunyningham, worked with James A. Lyons to reorganize the Sunday school's teaching and administration. Other churches throughout the MEC, South, copied their model. In 1874 the lawsuit against First Methodist UMC was finally settled, allowing the growing Church Street to begin planning its new church on the old property just across the street from their temporary building. This temporary building later became Mann's Mortuary.

Children and their families are invited to bring their gifts from their 2020 Advent calendar on Sunday, 12/20 in the afternoon.

Purchase a poinsettia in memory or in honor of a loved one this holiday season. Each poinsettia is available for purchase now, for $12 each and will be arranged for our early December recording of our Christmas Eve services. Christmas Through the Eyes of Joseph: An Advent Study with Open Door Class Beginning on Sunday, November 22, at 9 am on Zoom, Rev. Rick Isbell will lead a 5-week Advent study entitled Faithful. The study looks at Christmas through the eyes of Joseph. Written by the Rev. Adam Hamilton the study reflects on Joseph from his beginnings as a humble carpenter to his all important role as the earthly father of Jesus. Joseph is sometimes overlooked in the Nativity story but his courageous actions were crucial to the birth of Jesus and God's salvation plan for humanity.

- + Through the study, Adam Hamilton seeks to answer some basic questions:
- + What can we learn about God from Joseph's story?
- + What can we learn about ourselves from Joseph's story, and
- + How does Joseph shed light on the meaning of the Christmas story?

Please join the Open Door class on Sunday mornings at 9 am beginning Nov. 22. The book Faithful can be ordered through Cokesbury.com or Amazon.

Zoom link: <http://bit.ly/opendoorclass20> (PW: 937401)

Young Adults Advent Study - Beginning on Wednesday, December 2, at 7 pm, young adults (20s and 30s) are invited to the home of Rev. Palmer Cantler and her husband Brent Gregory to join in a study of Names for the Messiah by theologian and scholar Walter Bruggemann. The study will take place on Wednesdays in Advent, through December 23. There will be an in-person opportunity and a Zoom link for those who wish to join virtually. If you would like to participate, please email Rev. Palmer Cantler: pcantler@churchstreetumc.org. The book may be purchased through Cokesbury.

Old Testament Advent Study with our Pastors - Beginning Wednesday, December 2, at 7 pm, you are invited to join our pastors for an Old Testament lectionary study for Advent. The study will take place as a webinar format, very similar to the Summer Lecture Series, with times for questions throughout the study each week. Because Advent is a busy season, we will record these sessions and upload them to our YouTube channel and website so you can watch them later if 7 pm on Wednesdays is not a convenient time. Link to join: <https://bit.ly/advent20study>

I'm Still Here Study - Advent is a time of expectation and seeing with new eyes. I'm Still Here is an excellent book for those who feel they are beginners in the racism conversation. Austin Channing Brown's book is a personal story that helps us understand seeing things from a different perspective. Leaders include Rev. Andy Ferguson and others. Sundays via Zoom at 4 pm on November 29, December 6, 13, and 20. It is widely available wherever books are sold. Please register by going to: <https://bit.ly/stillhere20>

CHILDREN'S ADVENT ACTIVITIES

This Advent will be different, but we are going to make sure it is still a special time for families to celebrate the birth of Christ.

Advent Craft Festival

We cannot have a large gathering for our annual Advent Craft Festival, but we still have 12 crafts for your family to do together. Each craft will have all the supplies bagged together and step-by-step instructions. If you volunteer to help pack Thanksgiving baskets you will pick up your craft box then; otherwise, a drive-by pick up will be Saturday, November 21 9:30-2 at the Welcome Center.

Advent Wreath

One of the ways the church celebrates Advent is by lighting our Advent wreath at each service. If your family does not have an Advent wreath, we are providing them for families to be able to participate in lighting the wreath at your house each Sunday. We will provide the ring and the candles. Sign up for a craft box or a wreath by scanning the QR code above - SIGN UP BY NOV. 15.
