Dr. Reiff Continues Summer Elective Series

This Sunday, July 17, at 9:40 a.m. in Parish Hall, Dr. Joseph T. Reiff will continue his 4-week series on his current book, Born of Conviction, published by Oxford University Press. Dr. Reiff will also preach at both worship services this week. He currently is Professor of Religion and Chair of the Religion Dept., Emory & Henry College. He earned his BA from Millsaps College and his M. Div. (Magna Cum Laude) from Candler School of Theology at Emory University. He returned to Emory University where he earned his Ph.D. in Religion in 1992. He is a full member of the Mississippi Conference of The United Methodist Church.

Born of Conviction: White Methodists and Mississippi's Closed Society is the story of the 28 white Methodist pastors who signed and published the "Born of Conviction" document in the Mississippi Methodist Advocate in January, 1963. This document offered an alternative witness to the segregationist party line. Come hear the story of how these Methodist pastors made a significant difference in the Mississippi Conference and the consequences that came from their decision. Below are the lecture topics for each Sunday.

July 17: "Born of Conviction: Call & Response" will focus on the creation of the statement, its publication and response.

July 24: "What Became of the 28" will focus on what happened to the signers of the statement.

July 31: "Born of Conviction: Memory & Legacy" will focus on assessing what the statement actually accomplished.
