Thanksgiving Basket Ministry Needs You

Each November, Church Street comes together to serve our community in one of my favorite projects of the year. The Children's and Youth Ministries of Church Street host our annual Thanksgiving Basket Blitz in collaboration with our Mission Committee and the Beacon of Hope. If you've never been a part of it, it really is something special. This year, we packed a record number of 260 boxes (130 pairs — the food is too heavy for just one box!) in just under 24 minutes. The gym is buzzing with excitement, hands are full of canned goods and jars of peanut butter, and teamwork is at an all-time high. It is such a joy seeing the body of Christ in action in such a tangible way.

We were overwhelmed by the requests to receive boxes this year and served 130 individuals and families — this is 30 more boxes than last year. We sent boxes to the Beacon of Hope, and delivered food to 8 different zip codes. The recipients were beyond grateful for the generosity from our congregation.

This is a valuable ministry, serving those in our own backyard who are in need. Would you prayerfully consider partnering with us? If you feel led to contribute financially to this project by sponsoring a "basket," the cost of one pair of boxes is $55. We would greatly appreciate your support. And please mark your calendars for the Sunday before Thanksgiving next year to join us for our 2019 Basket Blitz! —JENNY CROSS

The Church Street Christmas Pageant is coming Sunday, December 16!

The annual Christmas Pageant will be held during our Sunday School hour on Sunday, December 16. This is not your typical pageant: there are no rehearsals and anyone and everyone is able to participate! If you have been to the pageant in previous years it will be a little different. First, we will be performing it in the gym rather than the nave. Instead of dismissing everyone together to get costumes, we will drop the kids off to get dressed before going to the gym. All of the costumes will be in the education hallway.

If you have any questions about this or would like to help out, please contact Katryn Bancroft at kbancroft@churchstreetumc.org or 865-256-4636.

FULL OF GRACE – MARY, MOTHER OF GOD IMAGES THROUGH THE AGES

On December 17, 18, and 19 all are invited to view twenty images of Mary as envisioned by artists through the centuries. This unique display will be housed in the new Welcome Center and will feature not only the remarkable renderings of grand masters of early eras, but also includes an arresting array of contemporary paintings. The striking beauty of these works is unquestioned, yet each is sure to deepen your faith during this Advent Season. Greeters will be on hand to welcome you during these hours:

Monday, Dec. 17 — Noon – 6:00 p.m.

Tuesday, Dec. 18 — Noon – 10:00 p.m.

Wednesday, Dec. 19 — Noon – 6:00 p.m.

COMMISSION ON A WAY FORWARD

Holy Conferencing Group Meets for the Second Time

WHO WE ARE

The twenty members of this group are church leaders who represent the full spectrum of viewpoints on human sexuality and the current language of the church Discipline. Our hope is to pave a path, through love, prayer, and study, for the healthy and thriving future of Church Street UMC. This body is not an administrative entity of Church Street and has no structural or assigned power to affect decisions. We are simply a group of people who were invited by the clergy to enter into conversation together. It is our great desire that by communicating frankly but gently with one another we can tend to the great longing of the congregation to hold steady through this denominational storm.

OUR VISION

We hope to play a role in supporting our church before and after the decisions of the February 2019 Special Session of the UMC General Conference. We are committed to exploring these difficult concepts together through conversation and longtime learning, and to truly listen to different points of view. While we all do not share the same view on human sexuality, our point of unanimity is our love for our church, for the universal United Methodist Church, and for our role in sharing God's Good Word as far as our reach can take us. As much as individuals in the discussion love this church, no one is losing sight of the primary mission for the church. That calling is that we remain true to God's Word and that we disciples bring people to the healing and wholeness that Christ offers in this place.

OUR WORK

Our assignment for the December gathering was to complete the reading of Unity of the Church: Toward a Faithful United Methodist Witness compiled by the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry. After scripture and sharing of Holy Communion together, we divided into small discussion groups of three to four persons. Each group wrestled with questions lifted from the book. For example, we shared our personal views on the importance of unity in the church going forward, some of the ways in which we as human beings settle conflicts, and which of the qualities of the fruit of the Spirit might be most important for this effort (Galatians 5:22–26).

People did not necessarily come to unified conclusions but our small groups had meaningful conversations and put in the tough effort. Answers seemed not as important as the willingness to be in conversation. This group of Church Street servants invite you to read the books along with us and to pray that the Holy Spirit guide our endeavor and lead us in the path for the current and future health of this body called Church Street UMC.

Pastoral Deaths

We have recently learned of the deaths of two beloved pastors who served Church Street in the past. The Rev. Dr. Toombs H. Kay, Jr. who served as Senior Pastor 1974–1987 died Dec. 4. His Memorial Service will be Sat., Dec. 8 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's UMC, Pawley's Island, SC. The Rev. Eldon A. Moore, who served as Associate Pastor 1979–1981 died Nov. 29. The family will receive friends on Dec. 9 at 2 p.m. at First UMC, Maryville, TN with service to follow at 4 p.m.

The Sharing Shops

Thank you for continuing to share with our neighbors. Currently, we need:

- Children's coats
- Children's fall & winter clothing
- Adult coats
- Blankets
- Men's boots

Thank you for your generosity!

CSA Holiday Concert

Community School of the Arts will host a holiday concert and reception on Tuesday, December 11 at 6:30 p.m. in the Nave. A reception will follow in the Church Life Center Hallway. Church Street is proud to be home to CSA's students, families and teachers each week day. Mark your calendars and plan now to attend this fun-for-the-family event.

Beacon of Hope Angel Tree

The Angel Tree is located in the Chapel hallway. Gifts are for children in Vestal. Parents appreciate your generous help. Please return gifts unwrapped to the church office by Friday, December 14.

Olive Branch Olive Oil

Olive oil bottles are still for sale until Christmas! The organic olive oil from Palestine is a fair trade product and has received the Palestine Standards Institution extra virgin certification. We did not sell all the bottles at the UMW Bake Sale. If you would like to order a bottle ($15/bottle), please contact Elaine Ralston at aralston1025@tds.net.

CLERGY CORNER

Let's think together about . . . Holy Communion

In recent months we have occasionally been receiving Holy Communion in a different way. Instead of small individual cups, we have been dipping our bread into a common cup. But did you ever consider that how we receive Holy Communion expresses something about our understanding of the holy meal? For example, in some traditions, instead of coming forward to receive the bread and the cup, trays of wafers and cups are passed along the pews. Remaining seated as others bring the bread and cup to us reminds us that we are somehow called to sit at and participate in a banquet. It also reminds us that God first comes to us in Jesus Christ with the offer of love and grace. Gathered around the one table of the Lord, we are served, often with trays of silver and gold, from the abundance of the feast.

In contrast, when we process to the altar rail and kneel, we are responding to the invitation to come to the Lord's table. We come forward at God's invitation, knowing that God already has come to us and waits for our response. Our kneeling at the rail reminds us that the one who invites us is Lord of all heaven and earth. The rail, which prevents us from coming too close to the holy place of the table, reminds us of our place before God. Unworthy as we are to approach the holy throne of God, we come with bended knee and bowed head, humbly beseeching God's mercy and grace.

Remaining standing while we receive reminds us that we come to the table in a posture and attitude of joy and thanksgiving. Having confessed our sins and heard the assurance of our forgiveness, it is a "right, and a good and joyful thing," to give thanks to God as we gather before the table.

Church Street has traditionally used a single loaf of bread and individual cups served in a kneeling position around the altar. The use of individual cups became popular in the early twentieth century in part because of the increased knowledge about the transmission of disease and in response to an influenza epidemic. Their use today often continues from this concern for hygiene.

When we think about the character of the Communion itself, however, the use of the individual cups tends to emphasize the communion between the individual and God rather than the communion with one another. Some congregations address this concern by asking people to hold the bread and cup until all have been served, so that the congregation can eat and drink together.

The use of the common cup and single loaf has been the most common practice throughout the church's history. It draws our attention to the biblical stories of the upper room, in which Jesus shares a single cup and breaks a single loaf of bread with the disciples. It also calls to mind Paul's words from 1 Corinthians 10:16–17 (NRSV): "The cup of blessing that we bless, is it not a sharing in the blood of Christ? The bread that we break, is it not a sharing in the body of Christ? Because there is one bread, we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread."

Whether we sit, kneel, or stand, whether we use a common cup or individual cups, our sharing in the Lord's Supper calls us to a holy communion with God and one another.

—REV. DAWN CHESSER

STEPHEN MINISTRY—Time is Running Out!

The Stephen Ministry of our church is recruiting new members, and we want (and need) you. If you have been considering Stephen Ministry, please let us hear from you by Dec. 12.

- To join the ministry, call or email Dawn Chesser or Palmer Cantler. Their contact information is below.

- The Stephen Ministry is a nurturing and caring group of people, and the training is designed to help you develop skills you can always use.
- So if you feel yourself being called to this ministry, we encourage you to pray about it, talk to Dawn or Palmer about it, and make your decision soon. Training starts January 6 and will be completed in May.
